Deliverance

There he was a young man of 25 years old, married and father to four children. He was sick, broke and lost.

I was invited to come and speak to them and although we lived in the same street, I never knew them all these years. As soon as I entered the house, I immediately felt a strong demonic presence. He told me later that even his friends who were non-believers, feared to enter his house. I found myself sitting opposite him. While he talked, I just looked into his eyes. It was as if I found the hidden corner where the demon was hiding in his soul. He became aggressive in an instant and jumped over the table and attacked me. God's presence was so strong at that moment. I simply touched his forehead with the Holy Bible and said, "Stop with this nonsense in the name of Jesus." He fell to the ground where he remained for half an hour. In the meantime I spoke to his wife and she gave her heart to Jesus. After the husband became conscious, he also gave his heart to Christ. From that moment on, angels were fighting the fight and the house was cleaned up. Household items stopped moving; the lights stopped flickering and the whole family came to peace and was saved. Glory to God

The Atheist

I met an interesting fellow of about 50 years old and 100% convicted atheist, if such a thing really exists. Nonetheless, I was asked by his young son to speak to his dad because he did not believe in the afterlife. After two minutes of conversation with him, I felt discouraged and thought that this will take a long time and cost an entire evening of discussion with no results. So I immediately changed strategy and asked if I could pray with him? He replied, "No!" To annoy him, I said, "Aha! So you are afraid there is a God!" He fell into my trap and then we started praying together. I asked him to stand, I laid my hands upon him and just used simple words and after 30 seconds, he was unable to stand and fell to the ground screaming his lungs out, "I thought there was no God!" That evening his father got saved.

The Criminal

Damiano was a great man who was running a drug line between South America and the US. He formerly owned casinos, but now he was bankrupt. Here he was, an old mafia man in his 70s. When I spoke to him, he gave his heart to Jesus and every night for 3 months, I would call him to pray with him. Every night, Damiano was attacked by his nightmares. Understand this, it took 3 months to make all nightmares stop and the devil did not want to release him. However, after 3 months, the dawn broke and he was set free.

The Russian kids

There were some Russian kids, both around fifteen years old that were staying at our house for a month. I did not speak one word Russian and they did not speak one word of English. We communicated by sign language all the way. I bought them Russian Bibles and tried to explain as much as possible about Jesus. The last day Jegor came to me and said that he wanted to give his heart to Jesus. He did and then he asked if I could pray for his grandmother because she was already sick for many years and not getting better. Now these families had moved away from the Chernobyl area where the nuclear disaster happened many years ago. We prayed together and placed his grandmother's health in the hand of the Lord. Six months later, we received a letter from him stating that the moment he came home and hugged his grandma, she was healed. Glory to Jesus Amen.

The drugs dealer

I received a call of one of my friends and he said, "I need you to pray for my son!"

I replied, "Okay, but why?"

He said, "The Police had just picked him up for drug dealing and he is looking at a sentence of up to five years."

The son was 21 yrs. old and already heading to prison with a minimum sentence of five years.

I asked, "Is he guilty?"

He said, "Yes!"

I replied, "Well you know I cannot bend what is right and neither does God."

Then I simply stated, "I declare that when your son comes before the court that he will be found guilty, however he will not have to go to prison but will be obligated to follow a course of one year to change his life in the name of Jesus."

Four thousand miles further and 3 days later, a court judge decreed sentenced exactly as declared.

The son did not go to prison, but was found guilty and was obligated to follow an intensive course to change his lifestyle. Hallelujah.

The Stolen Laptop

We had just moved and I was unpacking our belongings. It was chaos and boxes everywhere. It took us days to get everything into place and finally I got to my laptops.

"Hey guys I'm missing a laptop!"

"Well dad, we honestly put them all into the truck! You do not suppose that the moving company took it?"

"Well I do not hope for their sakes..."

However, I already suspected that it had to be them. So the next morning, I called them up and said, "Guys you took a laptop from me that does not belong to you. It is my advice that you give the laptop back, because God will not accept it and if you don't your company will be broke within one year."

They denied stealing it of course and probably thought that I was an over-spiritual madman. I never went to the police and left it up to God. A year later, the report came in that the moving company with a fleet of 27 trucks had gone bankrupt.

The Tax Authorities

Once upon a time, I was scammed out of my money and left with a debt of €120,000. It took me 3 years to repay all my debtors and yet I lacked nothing these 3 years. I had nearly no income and everyone was pounding on my door for money. I had to sell all my personal belongings in order to pay the bills and to pay those to whom I owed money. But for some weird reason, not a single piece got sold and in those 3 years! Not a single person took my belongings away although they had every right to do so. I did not lack anything in those 3 years and learned not to depend on material things but to trust God under all circumstances. It has been in these periods that I have learned to give, give and give – giving out of my nothingness. Because I kept on giving, I started receiving and receiving. Still, there was one issue left with the Tax Authorities – a bill for €30,000 which I found unjustified because I never received that money. Nonetheless, the law is the law. I was struggling and tremendously tired with all of this – after all, I had been dealing with the tax authorities for nearly 2½ years. They had enough from me as I from them. Then the Holy Spirit spoke to me, late at night while I was sitting behind my desk. One question – consisting simply of 4 words: “Give it to me?” It was as if the light went on in my brain and I decided not to make an issue of it anymore. The following week I had a meeting with the Tax Authorities. I went to the office for my meeting to find present: the State Attorney and 2 Tax Specialists to give you an extent of the complexity of my case. I simply took a chair and said, “Tell me where to sign.” It was as if they were shocked and handed over the papers. I signed every form without reading them. All the forms were probably acknowledging that I had to (re-)pay the sum to the Tax Authority. When I walked out of the room I turned around and said, “God said that he is going to give me the money from you.” I closed the door and walked away. After two weeks, the first bill came in and I picked it up from the doormat. I said. “No God...This is not what you have promised.” So I tore the paper and threw it in the trashcan. This happened about 4 to 5 times over a few months. Then finally a letter came stating how much of a refund I would receive. After some time, I received the €30,000 and did not have to repay any sum. This incident was one of the best lessons the Lord taught me because I learned to trust him for my finance and He has been faithful until today and will remain faithful in the future.

The Pope

There was a huge crowd in St. Peter’s Square and as I looked around, I was thinking how many people came throughout the years to pray for whatever reasons right or wrong. I walked to the obelisk and pronounced the prayer God gave me a few days before. It sounded simple:

1. Let the earth tremble
2. Let all that is hidden come into the light and let God’s judgment fall upon us
3. Let purification start
4. In the Holy name of Jesus

That Sunday I had to preach in a church. At the exact spot where I preached and at the center of the Pope’s summer residence became the epicenter of a small earthquake. From that day on, all the scandals of child abuse (which had already been public for years), were coming out from all corners of the globe and the Catholic Church could not stop the consequences as they had before. This is the first wave and the second wave is coming but this will be exposure of shocking idolatry which will throw the church 1700 years back. Eventually, they will lick their wounds and return to the right foundation of Jesus Christ.

The Children under the Anointing

My heart for young people has always been strong. God gave me such a love and anointing for teenagers and specifically those with a rebellious mindset. I was in a church, filled with children and adults ranging in age from 3 years up to 90 years old. I started to sing a simple song and everyone fell down, touched by the Holy Spirit and started prophesying in the Spirit. It was amazing to witness what happened there. That even children of 3 years old were laying on the ground prophesying.

Early Pregnancy

I was approached by an employee. He had to go home because his daughter went into labour prematurely. She was just six months pregnant and the life of this newborn was in severe danger. I took the chance to speak to him about God but the amount of alcohol he had consumed impaired his ability to grasp the message. Finally, I said to him, "Go home. I promised that the child will be fine in Jesus' name." After two weeks had passed, I saw him again. He told me that day, when he arrived at the hospital, the doctors informed him that they had just cancelled the operation and that the baby was doing miraculously well.

The Repentance of the Youth

Three weeks prior, we had an amazing evening with the intent that I would take leadership over this large group. But something went wrong. That evening, after everyone had left, a spirit of criticism and gossip was unleashed through one individual who infected the entire group in one day. I was saddened to hear this had happened and that the group had decided that I was no longer desirable as their leader. We decided with their current leader to let it rest for three weeks and then come together to speak. Imagine the situation, we were in one room and gave the young people the chance to express their views. The first youth started, he commented on what he thought was wrong about me and so this went on one after the other. After a while, I started to think to myself, how amazing that a group of young people seemed to know more about my wrongs than even the devil did and that after knowing each other just for one evening. I knew the devil was at work and I was not giving him the joy by responding and so left it in God's hand. The last to person to speak pulled a letter out of his pocket. He really made a work of art, for the letter was full on the front and on the back. I also knew immediately who was the source of this action and so let him share his thoughts about me with the group. When he finished of the first side of the letter, he turned to me and said, "I hope you are learning a lot from this."

I look at him and smiled and said, "I am willing to listen but I have not given you the right to correct me. For me allowing you to do so, I need to be sure you have a better relationship with God than me and I need to see God's fruits. Since we do not know each other well enough, this is not the case." He got so angry, threw the paper away and said, "it makes no sense for me to continue then." "Ok then. Since we still remain brothers and sisters in the body let us put it in the hand of God and you go your way and I will go mine."

Now mind you, I did not defend myself with anyone at all. We went into the church and opened in prayer and started to sing. Within seconds, the Holy Spirit filled up the room. The young people fell upon their knees, crying and came to me, hugging me and asking for forgiveness. God is our defender.

The Broken Satellite

Besides my ministry, I also work. At my work, I met a colleague who eventually gave his heart to Christ. I did not know precisely what his job was at British Telecom, only that he was responsible for certain clients. We started to talk during lunch and he explained to me that his customers were all clients broadcasting Pornography. In my anger, I said to him, "I can't let this continue! I command this satellite to break down!" As he was a believer for only a month, he was very skeptical about my proclamation. Later that evening, he called me and said, "Please stop praying these prayers because the satellite broke down this evening. I am scared to lose my job."

Of course he now thinks differently, but isn't Jesus amazing? Don't you think we should have a deeper understanding of our Strength, Authority and Identity in Christ more?

The Death And Resurrection Of My Daughter

The nurses rushed in and told my wife to get prepared for a caesarean section to deliver the baby as something was horribly wrong. I can still see my wife's scared eyes and told her not to worry. The heartbeat of the baby had disappeared from the monitor so the baby needed to be delivered right now. My mind went back to early that morning when we first entered into the hospital. God was already there and told me not worry regardless of what happened. I was so at peace; I knew exactly what to do and the right moment to pray. I looked in my wife's eyes and said to her, "Do not worry, the baby will come through natural labor." From that moment, the heartbeat went back up on the monitor screen. But I knew we still had not seen the worse and yet I wasn't afraid at all. The baby died during natural labor and was taken away immediately. I stayed with my wife (praying and worshipping the Lord). The doctor came in after 30 minutes to bring us the bad news, but even before he could say one word, I asked,

"Where is she?"

"Sorry sir, you can't see her right now!"

I said, "Yes I can!" I passed him through the door and left him standing not knowing what to do.

While I was walking in the hospital, the Holy Spirit guided me into the right room, where she was.

She was a tiny, beautiful baby. Two nurses were still in the room. She did not breathe and was lying still on the bed. Meanwhile, 40 minutes already passed. My hand stretched out to her little tiny hand and I whispered, "Come back in Jesus' name."

It was like someone gave her an electric shock, her whole body started to shake and a loud scream as hard as I ever heard came out of her. As I turned to the nurses who were utterly shocked, I said, "I'll be going back to my wife now." I left the room and went back to my wife to bring her the message that our child was born and is healthy (small joke). Finally, after 8 hours of testing her, we were allowed to see her for the first time. The doctor said we needed to monitor her for years due to the potential brain damage due to the shortage of oxygen. While smiling, I said it was not necessary. If God does something he does a perfect job. Today, she is a 17 yr. old girl in her final year of high school and going to bible school next year.

Thank you dear God.

The Left Foot

His name was Angelo, a small time hustler who gladly he gave his heart to Jesus. I looked into his eyes and said, “Angelo let’s agree that scamming is not your lifestyle anymore.” I already knew it would take a while for this guy to lose his old habits. But, he was willing to swear and I repeated my request and he confirmed.

“Because I declare if you do it again you will not be able to put your left foot in front of your right in the name of Jesus.”

Needless to say, a week later he was not able to move his left foot, go figure.

To all, God means business and He should not to be taken lightly

They Got Both Cancer On The Same Day

We speak about the fact that we want God’s glory and presence. Yet do we really understand what we are asking? Because if He comes there is a 99.99% we would die; because He is so pure and we are not. So God is preparing us to meet Him face-to-face. He does it through protection, instruction, free will and leadership. Now we all do not like authority and jealousy makes us do stupid things. This is one of the characteristics of men. Look at the examples in the bible, one man killed Saul while he was still the anointed man of God and he himself got killed. Aaron and Miriam spoke wrong about Moses for one moment and immediately had a deadly disease which only Moses through intervention was able to remove from them. Job had to pray for his so-called friends or else God would have taken their lives because of their judgmental speaking. God wanted to kill Pharaoh because he almost took Abraham’s wife.

Similarly, there was a couple who also spoke ill of me. Here they were, they had stolen from me, had lied and gossiped about me and both received cancer on the same day. I prayed to God for mercy and forgiveness as I have done for many people who took something from me, gossiped about me, or treated me wrong. Does this mean I am holier? No! Am I better? No! Then why would God allow these things to happen? Could it be because you are criticizing God’s choices? He selects and it is not up to you or me to call God to the place of responsibility toward others.

The So-Called Healers

I have learned over the course of time, to never to search for problems. That means, if a witch wants to be a witch, be my guest. It’s your own hell you’re creating. However, if you cross my path I will deal with you, but I have no time to roam the earth to start dealing with all kinds of sorcery. Many times I have come into contact with all sorts of various practices for healing that was not from God. In such cases, I will deal with it by breaking their financial foundation and taking away their authority. All of them lost their finances and ended up broke and sick not being able to heal others with their sorcery. I do not understand Christians who will post certain New Age conferences or other non-Christian activities. If you understand what it is that God has placed within you, they will disappear because of the light that is in you. For there where there is light, darkness must cease.

In Puberty And Rebellious

This youngster I knew had a terrible attitude, being abusive spiritually and physically to his parents for years. They went to many organizations, psychiatrists, treatments and whatever they could find that might help. Many intercession teams had prayed and prayed, yet nothing changed. These days, I see parents have to deal with challenging circumstances. Bringing a generation up within a multimedia era:

- Internet
- TV
- Mobile telephones

Yet they underestimate the danger of all these in the upbringing and on many occasions I have seen parents not being in control. It is good to be your child's friend and important to be hip. Yet, I have told my children, "I am not your friend, I am never going to be your friend and even do not want to be your friend. I am your father that's a whole different level of responsibility. It is my job to make sure you grow up as a strong man or woman of God."

This meant that they did not have TV or Internet in their bedroom and had only access to it at certain moments to fulfill a purpose. Now my children are not the nerdy types and they have strong personalities within themselves. However, at the end of the day you will listen and pay me respect. "Why?"

"Because it is God's order!"

They ask me, "But what about my respect then?"

I respond, "Well go get it from God! It's His rules so you can complain to Him."

If I would put a rule into place I will sit down with them and explain to them about the what's and the why's of the rule. Those are the moments where they can discuss the new rule. At the end I always say if you do not understand something, now is the time to discuss. Once the meeting is over, I do not care if you interpreted it right or misunderstood, if you break the rule you will see the consequences regardless. This always worked perfectly and once a month I would take a bottle of cola and chips sit down in their bedroom and that would be the only evening they could confess their little dark secrets, trespassing and sins without any consequences. These moments we would talk about the effect of sin upon their own life.

He was a 17 year old guy, not only rebellious but even possessed. The whole family tried reasoning with him and despite all specialist, parental and intercession, nothing worked. At the request of the parents, I stepped in and took all multimedia out of his room. This was the main the root of his demons. Despite the fact that the devil had really manifested himself within the boy, he did not dare touch me. I walked up to him and laid my hands on him and simply declared freedom in Jesus' name. Within minutes, this kid changed and was totally different.

In my short life, I have dealt with so many young people that became a parent's worse nightmare and there is not one gimmick to solve it all. Sometimes, someone just simply needs to come to the place of doctrine to be changed like another kid living in our house at this moment. But I have learned there where the world was not able to solve it - God is. Hallelujah. It is very difficult for a one-parent family, so other family members need to step in to maintain the balance.

Testimonials Miracle Working Prayers & Revelations

If the father is gone, then let a brother of the mother or the father of the mother step in to fulfill the role of the lost father. This is also the case, when the mom is gone. Let a sister of the grandmother step in. Neither can replace the other roles equally, however a man is a man and a woman is a woman. Parents keep your children close; fathers hug you daughters enough and tell them regularly you love them. Do not give your children a free pass on the Internet, Mobile, TV, Mp3 Player, DVD, or computer games. It is a world where they need an adult to teach them about the good and the bad. Parents need to stay in control. The dumbest excuse I ever heard was, “well if I do not allow them to do it inside they will do it outside.” I have no idea which feeble-minded person came up with that idea. If you allow them to do it inside they also will do it outside. It only means that you as a parent are not in control anymore and you have lowered the standard. So what are your children learning from that? That everything is ok as long it does not frustrate you?

Parenthood is not a freestyle life; it is a job which you cannot quit from even when things do get tough.

It is not called to do alone either, you need each other to get this done.

I learned to pray proactively

I prayed for my children before they were born

I already pray for my grandchildren and I am not that old

I am praying for their future finances, Marriage, Faith, etc...

If I needed to talk to my children and did not know immediately where they were, then I would declare that they would come home in Jesus’ name in 10 minutes. Guess what? They were home always within 10 minutes. God would always give me dreams about things they were planning to do as a warning. I did not always intervene. Sometimes I allowed it to happen so they would learn, but on various occasions there was a huge red light in the spiritual realm. These moments I would intervene to prevent them from causing damage themselves or others. I could write a book on parenthood under the anointing – perhaps I will in the near future.

Shiatsu Salon

During a meeting he walked up to me and asked Pastor can I ask you something? Sure!
I have a SHIATZU Massage and beauty center what should I do with it?

Now the fact that he came and asked me was already the answer, if he was not struggling with it he would never have asked me. Apostle Paul writes if you heart does not judge then there should be no concern.

I replied and said close the centre!
He immediately started to protest (that was a surprise, not)
I looked at him and said; did you not asked me?
Yes he replied!
So you got your answer now it's your responsibility.

He grabs my arm and wanted to use some Shiatsu techniques to show me there was no harm to it. I ripped my arms out of his hands and looked at him and said touch me again and suffer the consequences. He looked shocked and stepped back as while he still looked at me I told him to come back on Sunday. Which he did and he brought his whole family along as well, probably to convince me together. Somehow he wanted approval to continue what was wrong and since he could not handle the answer he thought lets bring along a whole bunch to teach the teacher

That Sunday at the end of the service I started to pray with the people and he was standing in the back and while led trough the Holy Spirit I turned around pointed my finger to him and said: demon come out in the name of Jesus Christ. He felled back screaming loud and his family was standing around him utterly shocked.

Finally he was delivered and decided to shutdown the family business immediately, so understand everybody was on the street that night. Yet while he came home from the service the same evening out of the blue he received a great job offer. It took him a while to deal with his family, but God protected him. I meet up with him six months later and he was shining and still in love with Christ. Wow is our God great.

The Wonder of Dying

Until this day it remains a difficult topic for Christians because everything is surrounded by faith. If a person still dies even after prayer we doubt the faith or we start finding scriptures to put it into perspective so our own faith survives.

Now I come out of a family where the curse of Cancer seemed to hit everyone and I remembered when my young sister died I was so angry that I said. Now let heaven and earth hear no one within my own family shall die anymore from cancer in the name of Jesus. As were in the rest of the family cancer still would appear it stopped in my direct family and never came back. But this story is not about me but about a beautiful Christian Lady I learned to know. She was 36 years young had 2 grown children and a dysfunctional family. God brought me into contact with her to make her life bearable and to help this family through this trial.

I specifically asked please let me represent You for who You are and how You want to be presented. I still had difficulties with dying after my sister's death and all my prayers were set upon her healing God had other plans. This was a family totally out of control: a mom dying and her own environment cursing her continuously. All she already had cancer it did not withhold them to continuously tell to die and many other horrific words.

Yet we could find love for each of them and during speaking with them direct and individually slowly behavior was changing. The swearing stopped and bit by bit the situation became tolerable but still far from ideal. This wonderful lady in her own sickness kept preaching and caring about others. Then the time came where it was almost time for her to go home to her heavenly father. We stood by the family all these days and while she was sinking into her coma. I saw the beauty of God the angel of the lord was there waiting for her to let go so she could be carried into the lap of the Father.

Off she went and I thanked God allowing me to be there in that holy moment, yes there is something beautiful when a child of God is called home. Sometimes it is not the prayers that will change or heal the people but just our effort being there in the difficult times.

Voices In The Head

Please allow me to offend you and any psychological expert Christian or no Christian. Not because I want to offend you but God is God and the truth is the truth. If someone has voices in his head then that person is possessed, meaning psychological treatment will never work. It may suppress the symptoms but won't deliver the person. I received a call if he could meet me because he was troubled and so I agreed to meet up at a café. Now here he was 21 years old and confused and so bit by bit he explained me his troubles and to cut the story short; we agreed that I would come to visit him. After a week I went to his house and explained to him that he had to stop with martial arts because there were too many elements with demonic powers. We cleaned his room from all the stuff did a simple prayer and from that day on the voices were gone. Now you may discuss that not every martial art doing these sports here voices, well your right! But does it make it less demonic? Or even offensive towards God? No it does not and for him the trigger was immediately there as for others the price will be paid in a total other way.

Testimonials Miracle Working Prayers & Revelations

Where Is God When I Was Abused

The most common question of the person that went through it and I have dealt with many of these situations in my own life as well as in others.

She was crying and suffering inside and utterly broken yet never left her faith. As I was dealing with them for six months and the situation changed tremendously. Yet she was still dealing with the pain, not from the beating but the disappointment why God did not answer her in the midst of the situation when she was beaten.

For a whole week I could not talk about her issue or think about her without crying. Then after a week God responded to me and answered why he did not answer immediately. Now not answering is not the right context but delayed response or acting.

- The answer was shocking and so clear!
- Are you sitting down for this magnificent revelation?
- You may not like the answer completely but you will understand!

God said if I would have answered the prayer, I had to speak righteousness. That would have cost the life of the perpetrator. I was shocked when God revealed this and so He started to explain to me about judgment. If He would have answered the prayer of her He had to speak judgment which would have caused him his life. She, and as many are not ready for that. Especially if the abuser is a family member, because God said if I would have taken that person his life she would have held it against me and blamed me. So said the Lord; I wait and delay in the hope the sinner changes his acts and behavior and hope that the victim finds grace for the abuser. It does not mean that he will not try to redirect but he delays judgment and is limited by interfering because the victim is not ready for the outcome of the judgment on the perpetrator.

God chooses forgiveness and asks us to walk within the gifts of love (1 Cor. 13). How difficult your ordeal was in the end we do not want a soul to end up eternally in hell.

The Bible shows us that God is long-forgiving and slow in His anger Numbers 14:18

‘The LORD is slow to anger, abounding in love and forgiving sin and rebellion. Yet he does not leave the guilty unpunished; (See also Proverbs 14:29, James 1:29).
