

There is a price to pay

PAY THE PRICE

I am in a weird phase of my life as were many dreams of end time happenings come to me. Mainly what it is God is expecting from me and what I may expect from Him. For many years I am aware that God is training me for whatever is to come. Every year the pressure is higher just to make sure that I will stand and hold my ground and take the ground for what is ahead. It is weird to speak about myself knowing that there are so many interpretations and teachings that may contradict the dreams I have from time to time, because they are referring directly to the end times. Yet I am not going to dispute them at all, I am already glad people are studying the word on this topic and it is up to the Holy Spirit to reveal and convince what is coming during what many may call the end times and I call it the great Event. Sounds more suitable, at least in my perceptions.

The reason of my open letter is more on the huge concerns I have for many Christians. Now mind you I consider myself as a Christian that won the price and set the highest standard in fallibility. It has been amazing the amount of stubbornness there was within my life. If someone deserved the biggest chamber in Hell I would have qualified. Now don't misunderstand me; I LOVE GOD, but as a person on one hand I am very strong but if it came to God and His rules I seemed to be tremendous weak.

Yet here I am trained, cut and trimmed by the Lord personally. I have an amazing live with God. One night I was fighting the devil personally and God send two angels to advise and support me.

Jesus called me to heaven and Satan was trying to prevent it. The fight was nothing else then a fight of words as were the angels told me continuously what to say until the devil was pinpointed and could not touch me. The two angels then hide me for a short while until the right time came to lead me before Jesus. Eventually He came and picked me up and brought me into heaven, I finally understood all these man of God that saw heaven writing - I saw and it seemed as or was like a.... They could clearly see however it was so hard to describe. The images are printed in your soul but there are no words to properly describe it.

Here they let me in a huge auditorium were Jesus was speaking from a platform to the multitudes. The whole Auditorium was from transparent colored glass and yet you could not see through it. When I was lead through the gate the multitudes became quit and started to whisper in excitement: the Warrior is here. It took me a while to understand they were talking about me.

There is a price to pay

I was led to a bridge which was a bow between the Auditorium and the platform and let before Jesus. We spoke for a while from face to face and behind Christ there was a Huge Holy light and within that light I knew was God; it was the radiance of His glory. Finally the conversation ended and I was let back over the bridge; while on the bridge I did a shocking thing I spit on the bridge. But it seemed no noticed it and the angels brought me to the waiting room where I was placed to fulfill my job in due time.

It took me years to understand what it is that Jesus wanted from me and the same amount of years to understand what the spitting on the bridge meant. I was not ready yet, I needed to change and become more respectful. Now you may say eeh, duhhhh. But you have to understand I am coming from real deep dark life were freedom is unattainable through prayer but trough choices. As were other would receive deliverance through prayer, Jesus did not give me that grace He wanted me to choose, choose, choose and choose again. Until my choice was definite, unchangeable, that I would choose for Him rather He was there or even when He was hiding Himself for me. Rather I had good times or even if I had bad times that regardless what would come to me or what happened that I would honor God and listen regardless. It became clear to me that God hides Himself on purpose so that we would seek Him and He does this from time to time so that you do not become to comfortable. It is our Job to the best we can and to find out as much as we can about the heart of the Father, what better way to challenge us to seek Him. But the promises if you seek then you shall find.

After a while God picked me up and place me at the gate of death in the spiritual realm I still see the Hexagon and it signs. The reason why he did it was that I would learn to stand when everything seemed to be death and dark and hope seemed to be lost. Believe me this was the worse time of live and this nice little training session took years. Promotion true distancing me from that place would only is given, if I would make the right choices. This all happened based on my own request two simple prayers released in enthusiasm not understanding the price that came along with it.

1. God I want it all so take it all
2. God pin point me so that it become impossible for me to sin

I have refuge to recall these prayers regardless how deep and dark it became. It was hard to stand and so I felled into sin, got up and got out and fell again, got up and got out until I came to the point that it did not matter to me anymore If I would experience God or not. I am almost at the place where I am 100% done with sinning.

What is it I am trying to tell you? There is a price to pay! We come to Christ we say here is our live it's yours and yet we continue living as our live is our own. But it isn't, is it?

I am testifying this because in these times I learned to appreciate and understand all than comes with authority and obedience. Rather it was an elderly, church leader or appointed man of God.

Obedience is important to God

We dislike authority we think we are allowed to criticize, but we forget if we do that we don't criticize the person but God's choice and ability to judge. He chooses, who He wants to choose, when He wants and puts them into places where He expects us to listen. Now I am not talking about

There is a price to pay

Someone that may be so out of order with the path of Jesus Christ living and teaching stuff that not biblical anymore.

But where do we get off that we can think we can discuss every rule that we disagree on and if they won't listen to us then we walk away; simply because we disagree. Is that what we are teaching our children? Isn't that what happened in Eden as were they wanted to test God's authority?

Aaron and Miriam did this with Moses and got very sick, or where do I see this happening towards Jesus? Well they tried, but the outcome was not that good was it?

- Why do we think we can second guess our leaders that God had put into place?
- God clearly says that He will ask accountability from the leadership
- Does He not say listen to your leaders and pray for them?
- If we keep on second guessing and criticizing when we will then come to unity.
- And if you pray what is it that you pray? God change them?
- Where do you come of being so proud and arrogant judging Gods choice?
- God says I will resist those who are proud of heart.
- Pray that God may change you so that you don't mind regardless what the rules are!
- If someone else needs to be changed leave it up to Him; are they not His children?

We talk about self-appointed leaders as an excuse, but you know God will replace that person automatically. In the end God will ask did listen to my instructions or were you so busy judging leadership.

More and more Christians seem to doubt God and more shocking is that they say I am afraid to pay the price. They even do not understand if that is your statement then you have not meet Jesus yet. You are a convenient Christian who did not really made a choice. It is like Herod he loves to hear the word and wanted to be close to the speaker but never made a choice. In fact his fear of man let to even being the murderer of the word.

What do you mean you are afraid to pay the price?

So you rather go to hell, is that it?

- We only want the smooth talking preachers that agrees with us
- Everything is ok, sleep do not worry
- There is still time, God forgives

I was a two time face Christian full of the word never making a choice until, I told God to grab me and to make sure I was never ever to sin anymore. I paid a price and I am still paying the price and you know what? I want to pay the price, because God;

- If my time comes do not let me die a senseless death,
- Nor due to old age or even of sickness.
- God when my time comes allow me the grace to die for your name.

- God I want to be the apple of your eye
- God I want to be the ring on your finger
- God I want to be the seal on your heart

There is a price to pay

Take away my selfishness, because I (my flesh) seek itself. It does not want to honor you. Even when I speak many times it is about me and that's not who I want to be. I want the book David to be closed for all eternity and I want the book of Jesus to be open so that you may receive all the Glory, all the honor. Let my life be a radiant of Your glory that I may pass by but that they always will remember your name. In all the miracles and all the wonders and all the deliverances God used me for I discovered one thing that even sinners can do these things. Because all these miracles are Gods anointing and yes He made them available to me, but it was up to me, my responsibility to manage them well. Psalm 139 already clearly shows that all my gifts and calling were already pointed to me even before I existed. However how we live and use them is our responsibility and in due time we will be hold accountable. But all these deliverances, healings, miracles, signs and wonders are not going to bring me into heaven. Because they are not mine they are His.

What is it then that He expects from me?

- That I follow Christ all the way not the convenient way; No, all the way you have to go.
- Love God with your whole heart, your whole soul, your whole mind and with everything that is within in you.
- Love your neighbors and brothers as you love yourself
- There is no greater gift as he who lay down his life for his brother
- Give food to the hungry
- Give clothes to the poor
- Take care of the orphans and the widows

Then Jesus said if you do one of these things to the little ones, then you have done it to me and I will not forget you. So He will remember you name, it will be found in the book of live. And and you light shall go up over you

Christianity is not when it suites you and is certainly not a goody, goody gospel. Well when your saved you will be at peace not having problems or whatever it is you expect to feel. Real Christian life is though, you will be under attack, they will dislike you, they will reject you and in the end if you do it right they will burn or crucify you. Do you honestly think that every day was a blast for Jesus, that He enjoyed the crucifixion part? That Paul and Barnabass had swell time? Most of the time they were sick, in prison, hungry all for the Gospel of Jesus. John the Baptist lost his head; Apostle Stephan got stoned within a short while, no long ministry there. Most of the prophets wanted to walk away from their calling. Then why do all these mad man want undergo all these tortures, what is it that they have in common to dedicate their live for Jesus the Christ.

1. They meet the real Christ
2. Passion for the lost souls
3. They were madly in Love with the truth.
4. They accepted authority and submitted to the will of their leader

PAY THE PRICE, stop fooling around.

The kingdom of Heaven is not a democracy and certainly not liberal. Meaning you have to submit to authority and you're not allowed to second guess, so suck it up and stop whining.
